The preparatory visit and jobshadowing are reserved for the aacs decision makers and the coordinator.

Training courses for the staff

at APE Coimbra PORTUGAL

Dissemination and tools of the ecotourism concept.

Promotion of exchanges, knowledge, technical training, research development and support.

Promotion of international cooperation to increase ethical, sustainable and responsible tourism activities.

Increase in information campaigns on ecotourism, with maximum involvement of the authorities and public opinion.

In Algaba - Ronda SPAIN

Ecotourism and agroecology, safeguarding a natural heritage of the finca of Algaba and the preservation of worthy work for the inhabitants and environmental operators.

Promotion of knowledge of an integral heritage management model (university, associations for the defense of the rural world and with large management by a women's cooperative).

Promotion, knowledge and development, also in a community context, of an educational farm.

Training courses for learners

Use the path of Santiago as an open classroom, exploiting its character of a transversal phenomenon, in the cultural aspect and as an inclusive and integrative human experience... so more than theoretical approaches... participants will be able to feel part of the values of the way of Santiago, visiting specific sections, staying in pilgrim hostels who practice the traditional jacobine hospitality. Know the “milestones” of the cultural heritage of the way of Santiago as well as some “agents of the way”.

Participants in the mobilities will be selected through questionnaires to assess needs, expectations, interests and tools developed with the support of the national agency, erasmus plus.

Jobshadowing

Above all activities of exchange and comparison on the work that these associations carry out... with the purpose of maintaining a collaborative relationship even after the conclusion of the project on the topics:

- protection and diffusion of the trail route;
- production of studies on the path;
- continuous training of members to keep the tradition alive, to improve the collaborative relationships within the association and with other local bodies;
- promotion of actions that bind young people on the path;
- preservation of the fraternal spirit of the old brotherhoods;
- strengthening the spiritual basis and the millennial values of the way of Santiago against the risk of becoming a mere tourist attraction destination.
